Elite Sanitary Pads

Our Story

Bertresea Annette Evans (BAE), MSN, APRN, PMHNP-S, Student of Whole Medicine & Healing Nutrition
Bertresea Annette Evans (BAE) has been in the medical field for 32+ and is an Advanced Practice Nurse Practitioner certified by the American Association of Nurse Practitioners. In addition, she is pursuing her psychiatric mental health (PMHNP) certification and a Student of Whole Medicine & Healing Nutrition (Ph.D.).

Her philosophy is to treat the whole person – which means treating the mind, body, and spirit. It also aims to heal the root cause of an illness, not just stop the symptoms. Mrs. Evans' goal is to encourage and educate communities on the importance of making small steps now to have a better quality of life later. Small changes can make a tremendous impact on whether you live life to the fullest or if you exist. Change your habits, change your health.

Having suffered for 28+ years with complications associated with using feminine sanitary pads and personal hygiene products led her to search for healthier alternatives. After several years and many long hours of research, Lotus Elite personal hygiene products and Lotus by BAE Elite Sanitary Pads were created. The vulnerability of a person's health should not be intensified from chemical exposure with the daily use of personal hygiene products.

Lotus by BAE Elite Sanitary Pads are infused with a 5-in-1 Diamond/Nano energy strip. The Nanomaterial emits energy that may help neutralize odors, boost energy and magnetize heat away from the body's core which is a potential benefit for menopausal women. Our purpose is to grow a global manifesto so that no one endures the effects of toxic chemical exposures.

All around the world, women are excited to experience LOTUS BY BAE, Elite Sanitary pads. Lotus Elite Sanitary Pads are full-sized and luxurious with an exclusive Diamond strip that may help with the control of bacteria as well as provide other benefits such as reducing discomfort, irritation, moodiness, and odor. Sleep with confidence knowing you will wake up fresh, clean and dry.

Chose Lotus by BAE Elite sanitary pads, where coverage is complete. LOTUS BY BAY, offers five variations to meet your flow: Super Heavy Flow Overnight Plus, Extreme Heavy Flow Overnight Plus, Heavy Flow Overnight, Moderate Flow and Light Flow Daily Shield.

Lotus Elite Pads are comfortable, wide, slim, flexible with an absorbency level for minor fluid leaks.

The Lotus Elite are great for daily use and protection for unexpected trickles with sneezing or coughing.

They are designed with a soft, smooth, non-irritating cotton surface and durable, non-toxic adhesive for stability and comfortable feminine ergonomics (designed to minimize physical discomfort and maximize efficiency).

"The pads were extremely comfortable. The coverage is amazing, and it didn't leak through during the night. I was also still able to move around and function as normal during the day while not having to worry about leakage."

was going on, but none could diagnose me with anything. Of all the issues going on with me, one was chronic yeast infections. Not once or twice a year, but a few times a month. My OBGYN gave me a cocktail of meds to take weekly. This went on for years. When I was introduced to these pads, I changed immediately, and my issues started to get better. I haven't had a flare up since. All the health benefits that's in these pads work for me!!!!

"As I get older, I am definitely more conscious about the products I use for my feminine care so to know there's a product like Lotus Elite sanitary pads is amazing. I never thought a pad could be so beneficial to my body! Less pelvic discomfort, no leaks and no odor are just some of the benefits I noticed instantly – these pads have transformed how I experience my cycle."
